

ICL: INSTITUTE OF CONSECRATED LIFE – SANYASA

VISION

- A Claretian undertaking with the scope of re-visioning consecrated life in dialogue with its past, universal ecclesial heritage and contemporary relevance within the Asian and, particularly, Indian context.
- The particular vision is to empower the consecrated persons to harmoniously integrate their call within the demands of consecrated life, and thereby to endow them with greater theological, biblical and anthropological learning to face the challenges of the secular and modern society so that they could become the leaven, light and salt, contributing effectively to the life and mission of the Church.

GOALS

- Renewal of religious commitment in dialogue with the rich religious and cultural heritage of India.
- Training of formation personnel in theology and formation of consecrated life.
- Fostering the uniqueness and complementarity of the different Christian vocations and the corresponding forms of Christian Life.
- Preparation for different stages of formation in consecrated life especially in view of perpetual commitment.
- Deepening of consecration and commitment to communion and mission.

SALIENT FEATURES

- A unique institute in Indian Church offering specialization in the theology and formation of consecrated life.
- Possibility for both ecclesiastical and civil degrees.
- Residential and non-residential options.
- Special accompaniment and programs for the juniors.
- Audit Program: Possibilities to participate selected courses.
- Open also for the diocesan priests and lay people.
- A collaborative effort with the Claretian Institutes of consecrated life in Rome, Madrid, Manila, Abuja and Bogota.
