

FORMATIVE ACCOMPANIMENT: THEORY AND PRACTICUM (FATP)

Duration	: Two-month online (2024 June-July) + 18 days' residential workshop (2024 August 11 evening to August 28 noon).
Eligibility	: Open to priests and religious 25 years and above, with reasonable command in English and who are either formators or are being prepared for formation ministry.
Medium of Instruction	: English

Course Description

FATP introduces the participants to the theory and practice of formative processes, utilizing advanced learning methods, contributions of andragogy, and transformative learning, together with the insights from 2,000 years of spiritual patrimony of the Church.

The course primarily draws on the Six Category Intervention Approaches as developed by John Heron, and is further integrated with scriptural insights and principles of consecrated life, counselling skills, rules of discernment, community dynamics, etc., aimed at preparing skilled and effective formators.

Learning Outcomes of FATP

Having participated actively in this course, the formation personnel will have:

- Explored the theory and practice of accompaniment in formation ministry so as to be better equipped to work in initial and ongoing formation.
- Identified, practiced, and developed skills and tools for formative accompaniment.
- Learned various intervention models to assist candidates in different moments in their formative journey.
- Had a lived experience of being part of a learning community of formation personnel who engage in collaborative learning and reflection.
 - Initiated preliminary steps for creating peer support groups which could evolve into ongoing support network of formation personnel.

Course Fee : See the "Fee Structure" on page 14.

Last Date to Apply : May 31, 2024

How to Apply : See the Application Form on page 13.
Or, via Google Form: <https://forms.gle/aiHi7UcGc4vasdhn9>